Interview with Strandline Managing Director

Strandline Resources (ASX: STA) advises that Boardroom Media has conducted an interview with the Company's Managing Director Luke Graham.

In the interview, Mr Graham discusses the strong growth outlook for Strandline's pipeline of mineral sands assets in Australia and Tanzania.

In particular, Mr Graham outlines:

- The tight supply-demand fundamentals currently being experienced in mineral sands markets and the buoyant outlook for prices
- The strong economics of Strandline's Fungoni project in Tanzania, where the Company is now finalising funding for what is a low-cost, high margin "starter project"
- The key findings of the recently-released Definitive Feasibility Study on Strandline's Coburn project in WA and why it is set to be a company-maker in its own right
- How the Tajiri project in Tanzania is fast becoming a top-shelf project of world-scale
- Why Strandline is in the investment "sweet spot" between early-stage exploration and production and why this provides a window of opportunity for investors

ABOUT STRANDLINE

Strandline Resources Limited (ASX: STA) is an emerging heavy mineral sands (HMS) developer with a growing portfolio of 100%-owned development assets located in Western Australia and within the world's major zircon and titanium producing corridor in South East Africa. Strandline's strategy is to develop and operate quality, high margin, expandable mining assets with market differentiation and global relevance.

Strandline's project portfolio comprises development optionality, geographic diversity and scalability. This includes two zircon-rich, 'development ready' projects, the Fungoni Project in Tanzania and the large Coburn Project in Western Australia, as well as a series of titanium dominated exploration targets spread along 350km of highly prospective Tanzanian coastline, including the advanced Tanga South Project and Bagamoyo Project.

The Company's focus is to continue its aggressive exploration and development strategy and execute its multi-tiered and staged growth plans to maximise shareholder value.
